Noxopharm Announces Dedicated Septic Shock Company Established

🕒 05 Nov 2020 12:03 PM

Australian clinical-stage drug development company Noxopharm Limited (ASX:NOX) (</company/asx-nox>) is pleased to announce a partnership with Hudson Institute of Medical Research ('Hudson Institute') and a collaboration with The Australian National University ('ANU') that has led to the formation of the new Australian drug development company, Pharmorage Pty Ltd ('Pharmorage').

Pharmorage starts out with the primary aim of developing a better treatment for septic shock, a major and highly underserved condition within the community. The same drug technology platform with its anti-inflammatory actions is seen as having application to a growing number of autoimmune diseases, also in urgent need of better treatments.
